Chris, I told Mark that I didn't know if we would have that data and I also told him I will be out of the office until the end of next week. I'm not sure we will have such records without research but it may be one we consider doing to help inform the public of the costs of prosecuting and defending a confessed murderer. Think about it and let me know your thoughts.

Dave

Hi, Dave,

I'm looking for an estimate (or something exact would be a bonus) on the amount of money the Weber County Attorney's Office has spent over the years on prosecution and defense in the Doug Lovell capital murder case.

Any breakdown of that number would be appreciated. And if you have numbers on any associated costs I'm not thinking of, please include those too.

Thank you,

Mark
